

SEO / AEO Priority Summary

Client overview for strengthening local search visibility, answer-engine performance, and buyer trust signals.

Overview: The site has a credible service offering, but it is currently too thin to compete effectively for high-value local search or AI-generated discovery. The main issue is not design alone. It is a lack of depth, specificity, and trust-building content on the pages closest to revenue. Google and AI systems do not yet have enough structured, citable information to confidently rank or recommend the business for commercial Tampa-area searches.

FIX FIRST	FIX NEXT	FIX LATER
? Expand the three core service pages with stronger depth, structure, and local relevance. ? Rewrite the homepage opening to clearly state services, audience, geography, and differentiators. ? Rebuild the About page with company background, experience, and credibility signals. ? Add answer-first sections covering cost, timelines, scope, and common buyer questions. ? Implement LocalBusiness schema.	? Create Tampa-focused and other priority service-area pages. ? Add question-based headings that match real search behavior. ? Increase factual density with certifications, supported systems, and proof points. ? Publish comparison content such as VoIP vs PBX and Cat 6 vs Cat 5e. ? Improve list, FAQ, and snippet-friendly formatting.	? Expand blog content with stronger depth and local intent alignment. ? Build long-tail and voice-search content around natural-language queries. ? Add an llms.txt file as a supplemental AI-crawler guidance asset.

Recommended 90-Day Rollout Days 1?30: Homepage rewrite, About page rebuild, service page expansion, answer-first content, LocalBusiness schema. Days 31?60: Service-area pages, question-based headings, factual proof points, snippet-friendly restructuring, internal linking. Days 61?90: Comparison pages, stronger blog content, long-tail question coverage, llms.txt, and performance review.	Expected Outcome Improved visibility for Tampa-area commercial searches, stronger trust signals, better featured-snippet and AI-citation eligibility, and better-qualified inbound traffic. Bottom Line The site does not need minor cosmetic SEO adjustments first. It needs stronger core content. Strengthening the main revenue-driving pages, clarifying credibility, and then expanding into local and question-based content is the fastest path to better rankings and AI visibility.
